EARTHQUAKES KILL 164 FILIPINOS

Chest Plan Gets 'Full Steam Ahead'

Island Shaken Violently For 8-Hour Period

Northwest Mindanao Hardest Hit; Thousands Reported As Homeless

MANILA (AP) — Violent earthquakes shook southern Philippines for nearly eight hours today, leaving at least 164 dead, thousands homeless and widespread destruction.

Hardest hit was the palm-tree-studded belt of northwestern Mindanao, second largest island in the archipelago. The first heavy shock hit the area at 2:15 a. m. Thereafter a chain reaction of tremors set in, heaving the earth on Panay, Negros, Samar, Cebu, Leyte and Bohol islands.

The Philippine Red Cross said the death toll appeared largest at Lake Lanao on Mindanao. Coastal towns to the west were devastated. Houses crumpled, churches collapsed and the power failed.

Capt. Angelo Cruz, public relations officer of the 4th Military Area, embracing Mindanao, reported there were 164 confirmed dead in Lanao province and 15 missing.

A Philippine News Service dispatch from Iligan reported earth fissures measuring as wide as a foot in some places. The tremors caused landslides.

THE NEWS SERVICE said 10 persons were hurt at Iligan and a waterfront office building there slid into the sea.

From Ozamis City (Misamis), a town of 35,263, an estimated $1 million in damage was reported. At least 2,600 were homeless.

"Everyone in this city and nearby towns thought the world had ended and death had come," a Manila Times correspondent messaged from Ozamis.

The Weather Bureau plotted the epicenter at some 600 miles south and southeast of Manila or a point between Ozamis and Iligan cities in Mindanao.

Ozamis is located in Misamis Occidental province. Iligan, with a population of 25,725, is in Lanao province to the east.

The Weather Bureau said the greatest intensity of the earthquake (Continued on Page Two)

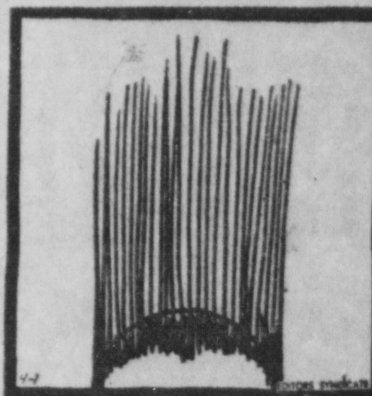

Duster Swirls Over Southwest

CHICAGO (AP) — Duststorms continued to swirl over sections of the Southwest today but some other nearby areas got beneficial rain. The gusty winds which stirred up dust clouds yesterday from New Mexico to South Dakota were concentrated in northern and western Texas, southeast New Mexico and southern Oklahoma.

The same storm also brought rain to parts of dry areas of Kansas, with Russell reporting more than 1 inch in six hours. Showers and thundershowers hit areas from the eastern border of Kansas southward through east Texas. Hail was reported in some areas.

"HAIR-DO OF LADY WITH FINGER IN LIGHT SOCKET" This fun-loving Lady is playing an April Fool joke on herself. Probably because she couldn't think of one to play on someone else. If you are in this position, here are a few April Fool jokes that you are welcome to use: (1) Slip into your Dentist's office with a couple of muscular friends and have them hold him down while you drill 6 or 7 of his teeth. (2) If you're a commuter, fill your brief case with Limburger cheese, then sit back and enjoy the sickly looks and smiles of your neighbors. (3) Run a Police Car into the curb, then leap out and give the driver a tongue lashing. Later, when you yell "April fool!" a hearty laugh will be had by all (while you're waiting for the Bail Bondsman).

Townships Put Weight Behind Growing Drive

Grigg Announces April 21 Meeting To Launch Setup

Pickaway County will have a Community Chest organization, and the first campaign under the new setup has been tentatively set for next Fall.

Ed Grigg, chairman of a steering committee formed to lead the Chest plan through its preliminary stages, announced the final decision today on the controversial proposal. He said:

"We've decided to go ahead. There will be no turning back now. We are satisfied a Community Chest is wanted by the public and businessmen in Pickaway County, and the need for one has long been clear."

Grigg and other backers of the Chest plan had withheld final decision until after an important meeting Thursday night with representatives of the various townships. Grigg had warned earlier that full support from the townships had to be assured before a green light would be set up for the whole program.

IN RESPONSE to this warning, spokesmen for more than 12 of the county's 15 townships voiced enthusiastic approval of the Chest setup, and promised continued support in getting it under way.

"We found the townships to be with us in our efforts," Grigg said. "There is no doubt about it now, so we are moving ahead without further delay."

Success of the Thursday night meeting automatically set up a big public meeting in Circleville, now scheduled for April 21. At this gathering, the nucleus of the new organization will be drawn up and put into operation.

Grigg emphasized that the April 21 meeting is no longer considered a "showdown" gathering. (Continued on Page Two)

Gen. LeMay Called Before Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, goes before a House group today to say whether he needs new long-range bombers to protect the United States.

Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) said LeMay was called to a closed door session of the House Appropriations subcommittee on the defense budget for full clarification of his latest views on the capacity of present bombers and tactics.

Mahon said LeMay was called because some newspapers have reported that the general has recommended building new bombers for round-trip missions to Soviet targets without refueling.

This can be done now only by the relatively slow B36 bomber. The All-jet B47 and the B52, backbone of the Strategic Air Command, require refueling in the air in order to complete such a lengthy mission.

Mahon said that development of the B47 has cost over $1 billion and that "hundreds of millions" more are being spent on refueling planes.

"It would certainly be a sad commentary on the competence of our military planners if, after spending all this money on the refueling concept, we should awaken to the conclusion that the planes and aircraft tankers are not acceptable," he said.

Soviet Farmers May Visit U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department spokesman said yesterday the United States probably will permit a delegation of Russian farmers to visit the United States if details of their activities here can be worked out.

Press officer Henry Suydam said that the U.S. Government was trying to work out arrangements for what has been described as an exchange of agricultural delegations between the two countries.

Ike Says Soviets Don't Want War

No Set Policy On China Isles White House Briefing Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was described today as believing Russia does not want to fight a major war now, nor support one.

A highly placed senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said a reply of that nature was given when the question of Russia's intentions was raised at yesterday's White House conference of Senate leaders with the President and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) represented Eisenhower as telling the conference he did not think Russia would back up Red China in an attack on the Chinese Nationalist-held Quemoy and Matsu islands, just off the Chinese mainland.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said the senators were told Eisenhower had made no decision on whether the United States will help the Chinese Nationalists defend the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

BECAUSE OF this, he said, "the question of war or peace still is unsettled" in the Formosa area.

The United States is pledged to help defend Formosa, seat of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government. No commitment has been made on Quemoy and Matsu, which lie astride two routes which the Reds might use to attack Formosa.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said there was "nothing alarming—no immediate crisis" indicated by Eisenhower and Dulles in the Formosa area.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said that "if they know what they are going to do about Quemoy and Matsu, they didn't tell us."

In New York, meanwhile, officers of the National Council of Churches urged Eisenhower to resist the pressure of those advocating "policies that could lead to a third world war." The churchmen also expressed misgivings about any action by the United States, without its allies, near Formosa.

The two-hour White House conference, Johnson said, "covered the world" with Dulles doing most of the talking. He said that "some good may come out of it, certainly no harm will." He said the Democrats offered "no specific advice" on foreign policies.

SAFETY DIRECTOR Miller Fissell said he understood another civil service exam was being planned for mid-April. He said there was no one left on the eligible list.

Earlier this year, city council passed an ordinance adding another man to the force. However, this vacancy was never filled and now Forquer's resignation leaves the department two under its authorized strength.

Chief Merriman said the present scale of pay for police has not "encouraged" applicants. He cited the case of an ex-policeman now employed by North American Aviation in Columbus. His take-home pay, plus overtime, nearly doubles city police pay, the chief pointed out.

"And he only works five days a week where our men work six," Chief Merriman added. "He gets time-and-a-half for overtime but by city ordinance our men get only $1 an hour overtime. This is less than their regular hourly pay."

Forquer was with the police department for approximately 15 months, according to Chief Merriman.

Rainfall In March Exceeds Normal

With the hot Summer stretch only a few pages away on the calendar, rainfall in the Circleville area continued to laugh at the drought during March.

According to a chart prepared by the Columbus Weather Bureau, rainfall in this vicinity during March was 1.67 inch above normal. Normal rainfall here for March is 3.91 inches.

Local precipitation also ended February with a substantial margin over the normal total, finishing the month 3.38 inches on the "wet" side.

The Scioto River at Circleville Friday was at 5.57 feet.

To permit a more accurate reading through April, The Herald's "drought score" will be suspended for the next several days. A period of at least a few days. A period to compare rainfall here with the normal figures.

Senate Votes Approval To German Pacts

Tally Of 76-2 Grants Rearmament Rights To European Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today approved the German rearmament treaties by an overwhelming vote.

The rollcall tally was 76-2, with Sens. Lang (R-ND) and Malone (R-Nev.) voting against.

The twin pacts, which Secretary of State Dulles said will give West European unity an "irreversible reality," give sovereignty to the Republic of West Germany, bring her into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and provide for a brand new 12-division German army.

The Foreign Relations Committee recommended approval yesterday 14-1. Sen. Langer (R-ND), voting "no," said, "These treaties are just a repetition of the World War I Versailles Treaty. They are courting a future war."

Langer took particular exception to the new French-German agreement on the Saar Basin, which binds that coal-rich area economically to France. The Saar agreement does not require U. S. OK.

"The Germans had the Saar for 1,000 years," Langer said.

One of the pacts would end the formal occupation of West Germany by the United States, Britain and France. Germany could build a 12-division army, a small coastal navy and an air force under rigid restrictions.

THE OTHER treaty would bring West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member.

George opened debate of the two treaties. He said the pacts also would contribute to the unification of Germany.

"It is unthinkable that we should now refuse to ratify them or that we should unduly prolong the debate," George said, adding:

"I am convinced that we improve the chances for the unification of Germany. We improve the chances for a Big Four or Big Five meeting that will produce something more constructive and helpful than stalemate and propaganda," George said.

The Georgia Democrat noted "genuine concern" among some persons" lest these agreements should open the way for a resurgence of German militarism." He told the senate:

"In my judgment, there are practical, workable safeguards against such an eventuality . . . in the limitations which West Germany has accepted with respect to its own rearmament, and in the nature of the cooperative effort which will be put forth under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Plaster moulds were made of fresh tire tracks and footprints which led to the desolate garbage dump at the end of a lovers' lane where the school girl's mutilated body was found yesterday. The dump was in suburban Oakland County, 23 miles from her home.

The child, missing a week, had been raped, beaten, strangled to death and then knifed 15 times.

Before the body was found, police had checked out more than 600 tips without success.

Pathologist Richard E. Olsen, of Pontiac, said the girl probably died March 24, the day she went off to school, her rosary and homework in her hand. He said the knifing occurred after death.

Led to the morgue to identify his daughter, grief-stricken Frank Gaca Jr., a Detroit postman, stayed 90 seconds and burst from the room, his face twisted in agony. "I only hope she didn't suffer," he whispered.

The child's body, clad only in a cotton dress, was discovered by a railroad section hand who spotted the Army blanket in which it was wrapped.

Speaker Of House Lauds Gov. Cox

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) has lauded James M. Cox, former Ohio congressman and governor as "one of the greatest Americans it has been my privilege to know."

Rayburn's praise came yesterday on the 85th birthday of Cox, publisher of the Dayton News and Journal Herald, the Springfield Sun and News and other papers.

Cox served in Congress from 1909 to 1913, was Ohio governor from 1913 to 1915 and from 1917 to 1921, and unsuccessfully sought the presidency as a Democrat in 1920.

Filibuster Record Claimed But Old Champ Hollers Foul

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A talkin' Texan, member of the state senate, claimed a new filibuster record today, but the old champion hollered foul.

Sen. Wayne Wagonseller of Bowie talked (with help) for 28 hours and 6 minutes in an effort to prevent a cut in state motor bus registration fees.

But the old filibuster king, Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton claimed a foul. Phillips was forced to stand erect last week when he set what he claimed was a national record by talking 23 hours and 35 minutes in support of more charity beds for a hospital in Galveston.

"If they'd a let me do like he did," said Phillips, "I coulda talked all summer."

Wagonseller's leg was shot up during World War II. Senate rules were relaxed enough to permit him to lean or sit on his desk during much of the questioning.

GOP Will Meet Wednesday On Postmaster Job

Members of the Pickaway County Republican Executive Committee will meet next Wednesday to recommend an acting postmaster for Circleville.

It will be the first major step in the usual procedure to fill a vacancy due in the job next June 1. Postmaster A. Hulse Jays has confirmed he is preparing to retire from his office.

Chairman Ray Davis of the county GOP executive group revealed plans for the meeting to name an acting postmaster. However, he explained that identity of the man selected cannot be disclosed immediately after the meeting.

The Civil Service Commission of the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C., has notified the committee that the name of the man picked should not be announced until there is an opportunity to make a routine check on the individual.

Davis estimated such a checkup may take "about 10 days" after the committee's meeting.

THE ACTING postmaster will continue to serve until a new, permanent postmaster is selected through Civil Service examination. The job of postmaster here draws an annual salary of about $5,750.

At least 12 applicants reportedly are seeking the position.

Truckers Accept Cincinnati Offer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Truck drivers for 56 Greater Cincinnati produce firms today accepted pay increases offered by management a few hours after they had been scheduled to go on strike.

The work stoppage, scheduled for midnight, was postponed while the men took a vote on new management proposals. They approved a contract calling for an increase in pay of 10 cents an hour for the first year, and eight and seven cents, respectively, for the next two years. Total hourly wage was not available.

Sheppards Leave $272,078 Estate

CLEVELAND (AP)—The parents of convicted slayer Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard left combined holdings worth $272,078.97, according to inventories filed in probate court.

The property of Mrs. Ethel H. Sheppard was appraised at $147,015.13, and that of her husband, Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, at $125,063.84. Mrs. Sheppard shot herself Jan. 7, just 11 days before her husband died in Bay View Hospital, which he founded.

Under terms of the parent's wills, their estate was to be divided equally among their three sons.

Volunteer Leaders Honored At Dinner

Huge Scouting Event Has Awards Go To Men Who Attended Series

Among groups of "Heep Wah" more than 70 persons paid honor Thursday night to the graduating members of the "Conference On Youth" volunteer Boy Scout leader training course.

Three men received permanent commissions as Scoutmasters during the ceremonies in the First Methodist Church. They are: Bob Newton, of the Ashville Troop; Phil Hines, of the Presbyterian Church Troop 205; and William R. Wyatt, of the Methodist Church Troop 52.

A somber note in the otherwise jovial festivities was sounded by the guest speaker, Robert Billington, regional Scout executive for Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. "Volunteer leaders, by filling in the leisure time of youths, are the only answer to eliminating crime in youth," he declared. "We are only free and democratic if we engage in volunteer activities."

BILLINGTON'S speech, generously dotted with amusing stories and experiences, was the highlight of the evening at which numerous awards were presented. Ray Friend, chairman of the leadership and training committee of the Pickaway District, was toastmaster.

The evening began with the invocation by the Rev. Donald Mitchell. Following that was a ham dinner, prepared and served by members of the Methodist Church.

Friend thanked the Rev. Charles Reed, Methodist minister, for the use of the church and its facilities for the "Conference On Youth" meetings. Then, he introduced Dr. Jasper Hedges, district commissioner.

Dr. Hedges explained that he was "pinch-hitting" for Vaden Couch, district chairman, who was in Columbus on business. He emphasized that the training "is not valuable unless you bring something back to the boys."

Friend thanked his leadership training committee, consisting of Arch Ward, John Downs and Jack Miller. He also thanked those not present who helped set up the "Conference."

HE EXTENDED thanks to Bob Clark, as publicity chairman, and to "the wives, for putting up with their husbands' nights out."

Friend then given a "Heep Wah" ("Heep Wah" deserves some explanation. But no one seemed to know exactly where it came from, or precisely what it meant.)

Friend, on behalf of his committee, presented a huge scrap book to the district on the condition that it be kept up to date.

He then reviewed the organization of the training sessions and explained that eight patrols were formed. On the basis of points, the "Skunk" Patrol came out first. After a bit of coaxing, they gave their patrol yell—"P-U."

JACK FOX, Scout executive from the Central Ohio Council, was then honored for guiding the men here in their training. He was surprised with a present of a Scout knife.

Fox, in turn, surprised the 22 men who went on an overnight camping trip last weekend. He told them they were charter members of the "Pickaway Polar Bears," due to the fact that the temperature at their camp was 5 degrees (Continued on Page Two)

Ohioans's Bid On 18 Fire Trucks Shelved

CHICAGO (AP)—John F. Ward, city purchasing agent, today is trying to sell 18 obsolete fire trucks for $600 each despite a bid of $750 apiece by a Lorain man.

Ward identified the Ohio man as S. Decatur Ross, 39, and described him as having "a very vivid imagination." Ward said Lorain police told him Ross has no funds to buy the trucks but likes "to bid on things."

Clark, as publicity chairman, and to "the wives, for putting up with their husbands' nights out."

Friend was then given a "Heep Wah".

"Heep Wah" deserves some explanation. But no one seemed to know exactly where it came from, or precisely what it meant.

Friend, on behalf of his committee, presented a huge scrap book to the district on the condition that it be kept up to date. He then reviewed the organization of the training sessions and explained that eight patrols were formed. On the basis of points, the "Skunk" Patrol came out first. After a bit of coaxing, they gave their patrol yell—"P-U".

JACK FOX, Scout executive from the Central Ohio Council, was then honored for guiding the men here in their training. He was surprised with a present of a Scout knife.

Fox, in turn, surprised the 22 men who went on an overnight camping trip last weekend. He told them they were charter members of the "Pickaway Polar Bears", due to the fact that the temperature at their camp was 5 degrees (Continued on Page Two)

Ohioans' Bid On 18 Fire Trucks Shelved

CHICAGO (AP) — John F. Ward, city purchasing agent, today is trying to sell 18 obsolete fire trucks for $600 each despite a bid of $750 apiece by a Lorain man.

Ward identified the Ohio man as S. Decatur Ross, 59, and described him as having "a very vivid imagination." Ward said Lorain police told him Ross has no funds to buy the trucks but likes "to bid on things."

Grigg Announces April 21 Meeting To Launch Setup

Pickaway County will have a Community Chest organization, and the first campaign under the new setup has been tentatively set for next Fall.

Ed Grigg, chairman of a steering committee formed to lead the Chest plan through its preliminary stages, announced the final decision today on the controversial proposal. He said:

"We've decided to go ahead. There will be no turning back now. We are satisfied a Community Chest is wanted by the public and businessmen in Pickaway County, and the need for one has long been clear."

Grigg and other backers of the Chest plan had withheld final decision until after an important meeting Thursday night with representatives of the various townships. Grigg had warned earlier that full support from the townships had to be assured before a green light would be set up for the whole program.

IN RESPONSE to this warning, spokesmen for more than 12 of the county's 15 townships voiced enthusiastic approval of the Chest setup. Grigg promised continued support in getting it under way.

"We found the townships to be with us in our efforts," Grigg said. "There is no doubt about it now, so we are moving ahead without further delay."

Success of the Thursday night meeting automatically set up a big public meeting in Circleville, now scheduled for April 21. At this gathering, the nucleus of the new organization will be drawn up and put into operation.

Grigg emphasized that the April meeting is no longer considered a "showdown" gathering. (Continued on Page Two)

Gen. LeMay Called Before Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, goes before a House group today to say whether he needs new long-range bombers to protect the United States.

Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) said LeMay was called to a closed door session of the House Appropriations subcommittee on the defense budget for "full clarification of his latest views" on the capacity of present bombers and tactics.

Mahon said LeMay was called because some newspapers have reported that the general has recommended building new bombers for round-trip missions to Soviet targets without refueling.

This can be done now only by the relatively slow B36 bomber. The All-jet B47 and the B52, backbone of the Strategic Air Command, require refueling in the air in order to complete such a lengthy mission.

Mahon said that development of the B47 has cost over $1 billion and that "hundreds of millions" more are being spent on refueling planes.

"It would certainly be a sad commentary on the competence of our military planners if, after spending all this money on the refueling concept, we should awaken to the conclusion that the planes and aircraft tankers are not acceptable," he said.

Soviet Farmers May Visit U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said yesterday the United States probably will permit a delegation of Russian farmers to visit the United States if details of their activities here can be worked out.

Press officer Henry Suydam said that the U. S. Government was trying to work out arrangements for what has been described as an exchange of agricultural delegations between the two countries.

Rainfall In March Exceeds Normal

With the hot summer stretch only a few pages away on the calendar, rainfall in the Circleville area continued to laugh at the drought during March.

According to a chart prepared by the Columbus Weather Bureau, rainfall in this vicinity during March was 1.67 inch above normal. Normal rainfall here for March is 3.91 inches.

Local precipitation also ended February with a substantial margin over the normal total, finishing the month 3.38 inches on the "wet" side.

The Scioto River at Circleville Friday was at 5.57 feet.

To permit a more accurate reading through April, The Herald's "drought score" will be suspended for the next several days. A period of at least a few days. A period to compare rainfall here with the normal figures.

Fire Chief Warns Local Residents

Fire Chief Talmer Wise warned residents of the district today that he has not been notified of anyone authorized to confer with home owners on fireproofing or fireproofing methods.

Wise issued the warning after learning that two unidentified men visited a local residence and conferred with the housewife on fireproofing and related matters in the home. The men said they would return later and confer also with her husband.

The fire chief said: "This sounds mighty strange to the fire department, because we haven't been told of anyone authorized to talk with home owners on these subjects around this part of the state. I'm very much interested in what these men are doing, and I'd also like to see their credentials."

"All residents in such cases should demand to see credentials."

The big decision has already been made, he stressed.

A board of trustees for the Chest organization will be formed at the coming session.

The "full steam ahead" decision sets the stage for all the local fund-raising agencies to "stand up and be counted" on whether they plan to join the Community Chest. So far, only a few have given public indication of their stand.

BEFORE THE time comes for them to step out publicly for or against the Chest setup, however, Grigg explained another letter will be sent to each of the agencies in an effort to have more of them agree in advance to participation. It was known that several of the established agencies have already said they are ready to join.

Grigg said the form letter will be prepared and mailed as soon as possible, apparently within the next few days. He said it would ask some of the agencies to "reconsider their decision", thus indicating certain local groups have declined to go along with the Chest idea.

The new organization will be set up on a county-wide basis. Shortly before the meeting that led to the "go ahead" decision, the Circleville Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees both went on record in favor of the Chest plan. Several other local groups had taken the same action earlier.

Among the latter was the Circleville Lions Club. President Wes Edstrom said it had been determined by rechecking the club's records that the organization had officially voted support of the Chest plan.

Scout Leaders Get Honors At Huge Banquet

above zero. They were presented with certificates.

He also presented Friend's committee with certificates and tie clasps.

Friend introduced Billington, whose speech kept the enthusiastic audience enthralled. Billington noted that next month would mark 35 years in Scouting for him.

"We are always learning something new," he said. "Scouting is a democratic way of life. Democracy depends on volunteer movements, making volunteers the guardians of that democracy."

BILLINGTON said that the volunteer leaders were helping to build the character and citizenship of boys. This, he noted, depended on three factors: (1) the boy; (2) a planned program, which set forth ideals and ethics and (3) good leadership to combine the boy and the program.

"Volunteers haven't learned how to be effective for three reasons," he pointed out. "First, they have no regularity of meetings. Second, they have no planned program. Third, they do not get enough representation in their programs."

He added that "character is not taught—it is a by-product." Certificates for completing the basic Scout leadership training course went to: Warren Bastian, Clark, Dick Compton, J. E. Courtright, Frank Demjen, Hines, Newton, Wyatt, Robert Welsh, Frank Wirth, Verneal Thomas, Tom Henkle and Ed Bach.

Those who attended the first session on fundamentals were also awarded certificates. These included the following:

No Major Far East War Now, Local Rotarians Told At Meeting

A prediction that there will be no major war in the Far East at the present time and a review of political implications there highlighted the Circleville Rotary meeting Thursday.

More than 100 Rotarians and guests heard Capt. L. M. Merritt, U.S.N. Reserve, of Columbus, gave a capsule roundup carried from his many years spent in the Far East. He served as Staff Commander of Fleet Maintenance at Pearl Harbor during World War II.

"No major war is expected in the Far East at the present time," he said. "Red China does not have the facilities to carry on a major war without the help of Russia and Russia is not too anxious to become involved in a major war."

Capt. Merritt said that from all indications Red China is bluffing in regard to the Matsu and Quemoy Islands invasions. He said he did believe "something may happen" during April but he did not know what it might be.

"FAR EAST countries contain 16 per cent of the land area and 51 per cent of the world's population," he pointed out. "Their per capita income averages less than $100 a year and is as low as $30 a year in some areas."

He noted that if a world government would be formed on the basis of representation by population the Far East would dominate.

Capt. Merritt explained that India's Nehru made peace with Pakistan and is pacifying Red China because both have designs on northern India. Nehru, he added, continues his own personal hate of England.

"The Philippines are economically weak and politically strong," Capt. Merritt stated. "The U. S. is still responsible for this country and we cannot lose face with these people."

According to Capt. Merritt, Synman Rhee is having his troubles in Korea, due in part to his advanced age. And Japan, he added, is coming back and eventually will be one of the powers in the world.

"THE PRESENT alignment of the Far East in SEATO has its disadvantages," Capt. Merritt pointed out. "The U. S. has helped Pakistan, which Nehru does not like. SEATO carries a European label which is not too helpful either."

He said that European colonization of the Far East. He added that Red China could move in to Hong Kong "tomorrow" as they control the water supply there. This, he said, is one reason England is trying to get along with Red China.

Capt. Merritt concluded by saying that Red China will not try to force a major war. He noted that they have obtained land without a major conflict because they try for an internal revolt to accomplish their purpose.

The meeting was held at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church service center to accommodate the huge crowd.

The population of the world is increasing at the rate of about 70,000 a day.

Fire Chief Warns Local Residents

Fire Chief Talmer Wise warned residents of the district today that he has not been notified of anyone authorized to confer with home owners on fireproofing or fireproofing matters.

Wise issued the warning after learning that two unidentified men visited a local residence and conferred with the housewife on fireproofing and related matters in the home. The men said they would return later and confer also with her husband.

The fire chief said: "This sounds mighty strange to the fire department, because we haven't been told of anyone authorized to talk with home owners on these subjects around this part of the state. I'm very much interested in what these men are doing, and I'd also like to see their credentials."

"All residents in such cases should demand to see credentials."

Townships Put Weight Behind Growing Drive

The big decision has already been made, he stressed.

A board of trustees for the Chest organization will be formed at the coming session.

The "full steam ahead" decision sets the stage for all the local fund-raising agencies to "stand up and be counted" on whether they plan to join the Community Chest. So far, only a few have given public indication of their stand.

BEFORE THE time comes for them to step out publicly for or against the Chest step, however, Grigg explained another letter will be sent to each of the agencies in an effort to have more of them agree in advance to participation. It was known that several of the established agencies have already said they are ready to join.

Grigg said the form letter will be prepared and mailed as soon as possible, apparently within the next few days. He said it would ask some of the agencies to "reconsider their decision", thus indicating certain local groups have declined to go along with the Chest idea.

The new organization will be set up on a county-wide basis.

Shortly before the meeting that led to the "go ahead" decision, the Circleville Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees both went on record in favor of the Chest plan. Several other local groups had taken the same action earlier.

Among the latter was the Circleville Lions Club. President Wes Edstrom said it had been determined by rechecking the club's records that the organization had officially voted support of the Chest plan.

Scout Leaders Get Honors At Huge Banquet

above zero. They were presented with certificates.

He also presented Friend's committee with certificates and tie clasps.

Friend introduced Billington, whose speech kept the enthusiastic audience enthralled. Billington noted that next month would mark 35 years in Scouting for him.

"We are always learning something new," he said. "Scouting is a democratic way of life. Democracy depends on volunteer movements, making volunteers the guardians of that democracy."

BILLINGTON said that the volunteer leaders were helping to build the character and citizenship of boys. This, he noted, depended on three factors: (1) the boy; (2) a planned program, which set forth ideals and ethics and (3) good leadership to combine the boy and the program.

"Volunteers haven't learned how to be effective for three reasons," he pointed out. "First, they have no regularity of meetings. Second, they have no planned program. Third, they do not get enough representation in their programs."

He added that "character is not taught—it is a by-product."

Certificates for completing the basic Scout leadership training course went to: Warren Bastian, Clark, Dick Compton, J. E. Courtwright, Frank Demjen, Hines, Newton, Wyatt, Robert Welsh, Frank Wirth, Verneal Thomas, Tom Henkle and Ed Bach.

Those who attended the first session on fundamentals were also awarded certificates. These included the following:

BASTIAN, R. T. Blaney, Clark, Compton, Lewis Conkel, Lee H. Cook, Couch, Courtwright, Don Crist, Bob Currie, Demjen, Jim Diltz, Downs, William Duvall, Paul Fenstermaker, Walter F. Fisher, John F. No Major Far East War Now, Local Rotarians Told At Meeting

A prediction that there will be no major war in the Far East at the present time and a review of political implications there highlighted the Circleville Rotary meeting Thursday.

More than 100 Rotarians and guests heard Capt. L. M. Merritt, U.S.N. Reserve, of Columbus, gave a capsule roundup carried from his many years spent in the Far East. He served as Staff Commander of Fleet Maintenance at Pearl Harbor during World War II.

"No major war is expected in the Far East at the present time," he said. "Red China does not have the facilities to carry on a major war without the help of Russia and Russia is not too anxious to become involved in a major war."

Capt. Merritt said that from all indications Red China is bluffing in regard to the Matsu and Quemoy Islands invasions. He said he did believe "something may happen" during April but he did not know what it might be.

"FAR EAST countries contain 16 per cent of the land area and 51 per cent of the world's population," he pointed out. "Their per capita income averages less than $100 a year and is as low as $30 a year in some areas."

He noted that if a world government would be formed on the basis of representation by population the Far East would dominate.

Capt. Merritt explained that India's Nehru made peace with Pakistan and is pacifying Red China because both have designs on northern India. Nehru, he added, continues his own personal hate of England.

"The Philippines are economically weak and politically strong," Capt. Merritt stated. "The U. S. is still responsible for this country and we cannot lose face with these people."

According to Capt. Merritt, Synman Rhee is having his troubles in Korea, due in part to his advanced age. And Japan, he added, is coming back and eventually will be one of the powers in the world.

"THE PRESENT alignment of the Far East in SEATO has its disadvantages," Capt. Merritt pointed out. "The U. S. has helped Pakistan, which Nehru does not like. SEATO carries a European label which is not too helpful either."

He said that European colonization of the Far East. He added that Red China could move into Hong Kong "tomorrow" as they control the water supply there. This, he said, is one reason England is trying to get along with Red China.

Capt. Merritt concluded by saying that Red China will not try to force a major war. He noted that they have obtained land without a major conflict because they try for an internal revolt to accomplish their purpose.

The meeting was held at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church service center to accommodate the huge crowd.

The population of the world is increasing at the rate of about 70,000 a day.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George, 77-year-old Democrat from Georgia, has moved into a vacuum in the Senate and has become in effect there President Eisenhower's strong right arm on foreign policy.

George, in his own right and as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is the most respected and influential Democrat on foreign affairs in the Senate, where the Democrats, who have a majority, could give Eisenhower the miseries.

But George has backed the President repeatedly on foreign policy and has rallied other Democrats to his support. It was no wonder the President this week publicly expressed his respect and admiration for him.

The vacuum has been created by the performance of Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the Senate. Ordinarily a president could expect his party's Senate leader to carry the ball for him on foreign relations. Instead, Knowland has repeatedly differed with Eisenhower. The resulting impression is that the Republicans are split down the middle on foreign policy.

For example, Eisenhower has been trying to handle the Chinese Communists carefully, with restraint. George goes along with him. Knowland has been calling for a far more aggressive policy, even to the blockade of Red China.

Knowland felt it necessary to take a stand opposite Eisenhower's on the Yalta papers.

For a week the Republicans beat the Democrats over the head with the Yalta papers' account of the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Then Eisenhower stepped in. He said he opposed their use for political partisan advantage.

Promptly Knowland announced: "I don't agree with him. I intend to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it pertinent." Then, although he didn't say he opposed Eisenhower's re-election in 1956, he said he was against drafting him to run.

The President, who almost never issues a personal rebuke to any of his lieutenants, has been patient with Knowland while at the same time being patient with the Red Chinese, with whom Knowland is very impatient.

This week, for instance, Eisenhower again would not say whether the United States intended to defend the Matsu and Quemoy islands. In this way he left the door open to the Red Chinese to talk about the islands peacefully.

George said he supports Eisenhower's position of vagueness. But Knowland this week was talking of a need to defend the islands. He's all for fighting for them, he said.

So, as time goes on, Eisenhower looks more and more to George as a major influence, and it's the major influence, on the White House side in the Senate on foreign affairs.

Britain Shelters Czech Diplomat

LONDON (AP)—A Czech diplomat and his family were sheltered by authorities "somewhere in Britain" today while the government pondered whether to grant them political asylum.

Richard Sedlacek, former commercial attaché of Communist Czechoslovakia's legation in Damascus, Syria, arrived at London Airport last night by air from Beirut, Lebanon, with his wife and 5-year-old son. He left his Damascus post and went to Beirut early this week to ask British officials there for asylum. He told newsmen in the Lebanese capital that his country was becoming a Soviet colony and he wanted his son to grow up "in an atmosphere of freedom."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George, 77-year-old Democrat from Georgia, has moved into a vacuum in the Senate and has become in effect there President Eisenhower's strong right arm on foreign policy.

George, in his own right and as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is the most respected and influential Democrat on foreign affairs in the Senate, where the Democrats, who have a majority, could give Eisenhower the miseries.

But George has backed the President repeatedly on foreign policy and has rallied other Democrats to his support. It was no wonder the President this week publicly expressed his respect and admiration for him.

The vacuum has been created by the performance of Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the Senate. Ordinarily a president could expect his party's Senate leader to carry the ball for him on foreign relations. Instead, Knowland has repeatedly differed with Eisenhower. The resulting impression is that the Republicans are split down the middle on foreign policy.

For example, Eisenhower has been trying to handle the Chinese Communists carefully, with restraint. George goes along with him. Knowland has been calling for a far more aggressive policy, even to the blockade of Red China.

Knowland felt it necessary to take a stand opposite Eisenhower's on the Yalta papers.

For a week the Republicans beat the Democrats over the head with the Yalta papers' account of the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Then Eisenhower stepped in. He said he opposed their use for political partisan advantage.

Promptly Knowland announced: "I don't agree with him. I intend to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it pertinent." Then, although he didn't say he opposed Eisenhower's re-election in 1956, he said he was against drafting him to run.

The President, who almost never issues a personal rebuke to any of his lieutenants, has been patient with Knowland while at the same time being patient with the Red Chinese, with whom Knowland is very impatient.

This week, for instance, Eisenhower again would not say whether the United States intended to defend the Matsu and Quemoy islands. In this way he left the door open to the Red Chinese to talk about the islands peacefully.

George said he supports Eisenhower's position of vagueness. But Knowland this week was talking of a need to defend the islands. He's all for fighting for them, he said.

So, as time goes on, Eisenhower looks more and more to George as a major influence, and it's the major influence, on the White House side in the Senate on foreign affairs.

Britain Shelters Czech Diplomat

LONDON (AP)—A Czech diplomat and his family were sheltered by authorities "somewhere in Britain" today while the government pondered whether to grant them political asylum.

Richard Sedlacek, former commercial attaché of Communist Czechoslovakia's legation in Damascus, Syria, arrived at London Airport last night by air from Beirut, Lebanon, with his wife and 5-year-old son. He left his Damascus post and went to Beirut early this week to ask British officials there for asylum. He told newsmen in the Lebanese capital that his country was becoming a Soviet colony and he wanted his son to grow up "in an atmosphere of freedom."

Atomic Future: Is It Here?U. S. Industry, Government Linked In A-Energy Study

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of four articles on the task of harnessing atomic energy to peaceful purposes.

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — An important engagement was announced here recently.

It gave public notice that from now on American industry will be "going steady" with the United States government. They have been joined together under the new Atomic Energy Act to develop peaceful, industrial uses for the atom.

A report issued with the new law states that one of its aims is "encouraging flourishing research and development programs under both government and private auspices."

Whether the engagement will ripen into a happy and harmonious marriage remain to be seen. Some close observers are a little skeptical.

Atomic energy was a government monopoly from the middle of World War II until late last year. Then the new law was written, permitting private capital to make use of atomic energy.

The Atomic Energy Commission, however, retains authority:

1. Over who gets a license.
2. What portions of hitherto secret information necessary to build and operate a reactor shall be declassified.

3. Who gets "limited access" clearance necessary to receive this information.

4. To release fissionable material that will originally fuel the privately owned reactors, fix the price, and fix the price of any plutonium the government later buys from private industry.

Any one of these could be a source of friction between the government and the private operator. For instance, in that extraordinary arily complicated area of declassifying information.

Here are portions of the testimony before the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy by Dr. James Beckerley, a physicist formerly with the AEC, now with a Connecticut engineering firm:

"Not only will our continued secrecy on nonweapons matters fail to affect the Russian rate of stockpiling of fissionable and fission and fusion weapons, but it will weaken our national strength by reducing our exploitation of this new source of energy."

"I believe that adding control of nonweapons information does not increase our national security. But, as time goes by, has the effect of reducing our national atomic strength."

AEC officials say they are working to declassify atomic information as rapidly as possible consistent with national security.

Now take the question of issuing licenses.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the joint congressional committee, is convinced the AEC wants to retain control over this field.

Army Boosts May Draft Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has issued a draft call for 10,000 in May—2,000 more than in April.

The May call compares with 11,000 in February and March. It brings to 1,898,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of Selective Service in September 1950.

The Army monthly draft calls are increased or decreased in line with the number of men who voluntarily enlist or re-enlist for additional tours of duty.

One reason the Army cut the April quota to 8,000 was that it had a rush of volunteers in January.

Texans Unseat School Board

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — An official canvass of the vote in the Irving election which last Saturday abolished the independent school district was set today.

After the canvass, County School Supt. L. A. Roberts will name three trustees to administer the schools as a common district.

Saturday's election was called after supporters of Dr. John L. Beard, Irving superintendent who was fired, petitioned for it. It abolished the old independent district and ousted the school board.

Petitioners will ask a new election, they said, to recreate the school district and elect a new school board.

Neely Promises More Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Neely (D-WVa) says critics of his blasts at President Eisenhower haven't heard anything yet.

He said he doesn't intend to apologize for questioning Eisenhower's habits and policies.

"When all of the Eisenhower coat-tail riders have got done blowing off, I am going to answer them comprehensively. They will have some new targets to shoot at after I get through," he declared.

Minster Man's Death Accidental

WAPAKONETA (AP) — Dr. R. H. Schaefer has ruled accidental the death of Henry J. Wendeln, 56, of Minster.

Wendeln's body was found Wednesday night at the G. S. Wintzer rendering plant where he worked. The coroner said he received a skull fracture from a fall or bump.

Cashier's Acting Too Realistic

SALT LAKE CITY — After an $8,000 bank holdup here yesterday, newsmen asked a pretty bank cashier, Mrs. Sylvia Zupo, to pose for pictures showing how she stepped on the holdup alarm button.

Mrs. Zupo blushed. "I guess I pressed the bank alarm again," she said.

Joseph Pulitzer Was Known As Working Newspaperman

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joseph Pulitzer, publisher and editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch who died yesterday, was recognized as being a working newspaperman.

He once said "If my value to the paper has been anything, I like to think it has been an active newspaper man."

He used the 1907 retirement speech of his father for the Post-Dispatch's platform. His father bought the Post-Dispatch at an auction sale in 1878 for $2,500. He later acquired the New York World.

The platform, inscribed in bronze in the Post-Dispatch's editorial room and in its lobby, reads:

"I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty."

Pulitzer through the years stressed the news side first and the commercial end of the newspaper second.

As president of the publishing corporation he had to have extensive knowledge of business affairs but he liked to be known as the editor, not the publisher.

Despite semiblindness, Pulitzer enjoyed his editor's career "un-roariously."

"My professional life is what I live for," he added, "and I have a perfectly swell time living it and would not swap it for any other kind of life."

He was not only named for his father but he bore a striking resemblance. His father became totally blind in his later years. The second Pulitzer of the Post-Dispatch lost the vision of his left eye and 80 per cent of the right eye. He carried on by having secretaries read the paper to him even as his father had done before him.

He was called "Young Joe" or "Young J.P." before his father's death in 1911. He regarded the Post-Dispatch as a living monument to his father.

Gifted with the art of understatement, and with reserved sense of humor, Pulitzer once said:

"I feel some delicacy about editing my own obituary."

Like his father, he never wrote

Several Stakes Seen In Coming Auto Union Tiff

Guaranteed Wage Demand Eyed As Big Issue To Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Many other places besides Detroit have a big stake in the battle shaping up today between the auto makers and the auto workers union.

To indicate they mean business in their demand for a guaranteed annual wage, the CIO United Auto Workers are raising a 25 million dollar strike fund by increasing members dues to $7.50 monthly from the present $2.50.

Auto company executives contend the guaranteed annual wage would be too heavy a burden for the industry—especially if the present high demand for cars should fizzle out later.

The union is also expected to ask, when negotiations start within a few days, for a pay boost (some say for 10 cents an hour) higher pensions, and more liberal hospital and vacation benefits.

Present prosperity in the auto industry—at least among the big three—is the basis for the union demands. Cars are rolling from the production lines in record numbers now. And dealers' sales last winter were sensationally high for that formerly dull season.

Many hope for a compromise to come out of the negotiations so that a strike won't develop. They contend that this year's experience shows that customers' buying habits aren't as seasonal as once thought, so that production schedules could be changed.

If a work stoppage does come, its effect on the general prosperity would be quick. The fastest stepping parts of the economy now are the construction industry and the auto industry, which in turn sparked off the unexpectedly fast increase in steel production.

A strike in the auto industry would slow down a great many other businesses beside the companies struck.

All across the nation, but particularly concentrated in the Midwest, are communities whose principal payroll comes from factories that supply materials or parts for the car assembly lines. These payrolls would shrink fast if the auto industry is struck. And merchants in these communities would feel it fast.

Many big industries find the auto makers one of their best customers. Steel mills turn out sheets for car bodies. Glass companies are booming now because of wrap-around windshields and other increased use of glass in the family bus. Rubber companies are booming on tire shipments to Detroit. Battery makers are buying more lead because more cars are being sold.

Steel, glass, rubber companies have other customers. But in many a small community there is a factory whose product goes almost solely to some auto plant. They have prospered greatly in recent months. Their management expects auto production to slow down later, and counts on the model changeover next fall to bring new orders for parts, for paint, for upholstery.

But a showdown strike starting at the end of May or the first of June, when union contracts with General Motors and Ford expire, could upset disastrously the time table of many small suppliers, and of the cities their payrolls support.

Many hope that a compromise will be found. They expect the auto prosperity to make management a little more generous.

They think the guaranteed annual wage demand can be modified—some suggest higher unemployment benefit payments by government would cushion the cost for the auto companies. This would help assure an auto worker a more even income over the year than he can now count on.

The union will talk much about

Gen. Bradley—No. Erosion

NEW YORK (AP)—Life holds a busy serenity today for Omar Nelson Bradley, who nearly ten years ago led American ground forces to victory in Europe.

At 62 the graying general of the Army, no longer assigned to active duty but still available to a bugle call, is holding down more jobs than at any time in his career.

The erosion of time has touched "Brad" but lightly. He is as erect as ever. He weighs 178 pounds, only five more than when he left West Point in 1915.

"But my wife, Mary, says I can't brag about that—the weight isn't in the same places," he said cheerfully.

The five-star general stepped down as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in August, 1953. He ended then the 12 tensest years of his life—four spent on the battlefield, eight in Washington as veterans administrator, Army chief of staff, and the nation's top military chieftain.

"I was glad to get out from under the pressure in Washington," Bradley recalled. "So was Mary. She shared the pressure. But I was afraid of a letdown."

There wasn't any letdown. After swearing in Adm. Radford as his successor, Brad went out and played the best game of golf in his life. Three days later he reported for duty here as board chairman of the Bulova research and development laboratories.

In Europe Bradley directed the attack of 1,200,000 men, the largest force under a field commander in American history. Now he supervises 43 defense projects, many requiring precision craftsmanship on tiny arming, safety and timing devices on secret guided missiles.

Summarizing the military picture today, Bradley said soberly: "We're not where we thought we'd be 10 years ago when the war ended. We had high hopes then of peace for a long time to come."

"But we have had to go on re-arming for our own protection, since Russia won't disarm."

"I don't think many people today question the necessity of our going into the second world war and the Korean situation."

To forge the great battle victories in Europe it fell to Bradley to give orders for missions that inevitably led thousands of men to death or injury. I asked him if he ever received any bitter letters.

"Never," he said quietly. And into his eyes crept a wish—the wish nobody every would send him a bitter letter. Few men know the price of war better than Omar Nelson Bradley. No man could want another war less than he does today.

NATIONAL CRIME WAVE

A NATIONAL crime wave is under way. From every section of the nation comes reports of outbreaks of violence which have never been equalled on a national scale. The police forces are battling valiantly against this assault against the lives and property of the people, and they are hanging up an enviable record in apprehending the evil-doers. Murderers and bandits are being rounded up and sentenced to penitentiaries or the electric chair with precision.

Few perpetrators of major crimes are going unpunished. Police are better equipped than ever to disrupt their best-laid plans for escape. The rapidity with which the law closes in on criminals today cannot help but impress the culprits that are apprehended.

But apparently police efficiency and the alacrity with which courts mete out justice is not having the effect that might be expected in discouraging crime. For every criminal that is removed from circulation, two are spawned, it seems, to take his place. This is the discouraging aspect of the present situation. If the inevitability of justice and punishment is ineffective as a deterrent to crime, what can deter those to whom the thought of straying from the straight and narrow becomes attractive?

Not only is the present crime wave of greater proportions and more widespread than any in history, but the crimes that are being committed are more atrocious and the criminals more vicious than was the pattern in the past. There is no doubt that this is one of the country's major problems.

BATTLE OF SEXES

A HARVARD professor finds that woman's growing importance in the general scheme is giving the male of the species some bad moments. He relates continuing female emancipation, which has now gone well beyond the social sphere and is making great inroads into the economic and political as well, to the increasing incidence of ulcers in men.

Dr. Benjamin Paul, assistant professor of social anthropology at Cambridge, told the National Health Council that social scientists are toying with the thought that social strain is the source of certain physical ailments. Wifely predilection for social climbing has been singled out as a cause of anxiety which in turn is a factor in causing ulcers.

As a statistical case in point, scientists note that in recent decades ulcers have become increasingly a man's rather than a woman's disease. Women apparently thrive on the activity of keeping up with the Joneses while men shrink inwardly at the prospect. The ladies, who often combine a mysterious paradox of romanticism and materialism, set the course and crack the whip.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Only too often I go to a play which has received unfavorable reviews and have a wonderfully pleasant evening. Sometimes it is even possible to discuss, between the acts, why such a delightful play was given the frigid treatment by the reviewers, each of whom, at best, only represents the opinion of one man.

When it comes to a book, the editors of the leading book-review papers can kill an effort by ignoring it altogether. I do not often read fiction because much of it, as presently written, bores me. I read something about a school recently which repelled me by its indecencies but it was an astounding success and has been made into a movie. I thought when I read it that the author could have accomplished more by being less revolting. Charles Dickens managed to do that and became immortal.

Thus far, I have seen no review of Ralph de Toledano's novel, 'Day of Reckoning.' De Toledano is the author of 'Seeds of Treason,' and 'Spies, Dupes, and Diplomats,' both of which are invaluable documentations of Communist activities in this country. 'Seeds of Treason' is the standard work on the Hiss trials.

Now Ralph de Toledano has turned to fiction and has woven together into one story the murder of Carlo Tresca, of Juliet Stuart Poyntz, and the mystery of Noel Field. But it is sheer story-telling, delightfully and grippingly done. In many ways, it is the kind of story that one does not put down without going through it to the last page. While most current fiction may either blister or bore me, I found in this book interest, excitement, stimulation and beautiful English.

And the latter is important because much that is written these days seems to me to be hammered on the anvil rather than composed in the study. One can say anything in English, with such strength as one desires, without stooping to the vulgarities of the 1920's, which was undoubtedly a period of showing off. Good taste is an art in itself and de Toledano has been graced with good taste to which he adheres uncompromisingly. Of course, those who are geared to hamburgers and Texas wieners have no palate for a mouse. Perhaps that is why 'Day of Reckoning' has thus far not generally been reviewed.

Virginia Kirkus, who tells the book trade what to buy, objected to Ralph de Toledano's story because it is not a contribution to international understanding, which struck me as a queer reason for condemning a work of art, which every novel aspires to be. Shall we, in the United States, submit our manuscripts to Mr. Krushchev before we publish them to make sure that he is not annoyed with us?

Shall we obtain the imprimatur of the Secretary of State? Did anyone raise such a question about offending Hitler when that oaf was alive and we were not at war with him? But even so, real Americans are today at war with the Communists.

I knew Tresca years and years ago, perhaps as long back as 40 years ago. He was then in the I.W.W. along with Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and Big Bill Haywood.

JIM ANDRUS served a prison term for the vehicular slaying of eight-year-old Roger Pelham, whose lovely mother, Regina, he had been about to wed. Overindulgence during his bachelor dinner had blacked out Andrus' mind, and he had awakened next morning to find the dead in the driveway of the Pelham home in a suburb of New York. Unmistakably, Andrus' car had killed the boy, but Jim had no recollection of having driven his car that night! Back, now, in his New York apartment, Andrus and his loyal Aunt Jude hope to clear the Andrus name. Jim's silver flask had vanished during his blackout. He hopes to retrieve it, for some hazy subconscious urge tells him that sight of the flask may recall to him just what did happen on that fateful night. Aunt Jude induces Inspector Brock to help him. The police are looking for a silver flask in a pawnshop near the Pelham home. Armed with a clue to the identity of the one who had pawned it, a man named Brodsky who also might have been known as 'Midnight Mike,' Andrus starts forth to find the fellow.

CHAPTER SIX

ANDRUS carried the lamp back inside and leaned against a wall and smoked three cigarettes. Then he went over and sat down on one of the straight chairs. The chair opposite the window. The table was between it and the door. From his new position objects rearranged themselves; Andrus looked, and put his shoulders hard against the back of the chair. His eyes narrowed until there were no whites showing. Patches of shadow . . . the dark panes . . . the yellow light . . . This was it. Yes, this was it. He had been in this place before . . . He had been in this place on the night he was supposed to have run Roger Pelham down in his car.

The door of the table, the window were part of that fragmentary mental picture. The lamp, the table, the window, a man—and the voice. Midnight Mike's voice complaining at him about throwing the flask across the room? He could hear the crash it had made when it hit the wall. He got up and examined the irregular boards between the two-by-four uprights. There was no recognizable mark. But this was the place. He sat down in the arm of the upholstered chair and lit another cigarette.

He had walked out of the inn on that other night, staggered out, at well before 12 o'clock, had run into Midnight Mike somewhere, and come back here to this shack with him. There was a dim memory of a bottle now, brown and round and empty, lying on its side, done for, useless. O. K. He had been here that night, not in a car but on foot.

The tightness went out of him. He gave his head a shake. It wasn't any good. He could have started for this place after he had killed Regina's son. Could have—only he hadn't driven the car. But how to prove it? Not by Midnight Mike, who had probably been drunk, too . . . There was no clock in the shack and a man who had dispensed with the dispensables of existence would scarcely be the owner of a watch . . . Talk to him anyhow.

The goad chain rattled loudly and hoots stamped. Andrus went over to the windows and peered out. The blackness remained unbroken. No one came in. He settled down in the armchair. After a while he dozed. When he jerked erect the cabin was dark and full of a nauseous smell. The lamp had burned out. There was pale light good half the deficit and I'll give you my check for the rest."

The management called the very next day to report success. Mr. Carnegie made out his check and asked, "Mind telling me who coughed up the other half?" "Not at all," he assured. "It was Mrs. Carnegie."

A famous orchestra concluded the season with its usual deficit some years ago and the management went to Andrew Carnegie for help. "I'm getting a bit weary of being the gatsby every season," grumbled Mr. Carnegie. "Somebody else will have to carry part of the load. You get him to make near the window. The moon had risen. It must be late.

It was late. His watch said 20 after 2. Andrus was cold and stiff, there was a crick in his neck and his fingers were numb. He got up and slapped his arms vigorously around his body. Midnight Mike might leave the tavern at the stroke of 12, not to come back here, but to go somewhere else. That struck a note. A woman, decidedly . . . Andrus caught and held on to another vagrant memory. There had been a woman with Midnight Mike. Not in this shack, some place else.

Andrus yawned. He was dead tired. Now that he knew who the man was and where he could be found, it didn't so much matter. He left the shack.

The route he had come lay plain before him in the moonlight. The thread of a path showed clearly stretching south on that high tongue of rocky moorland. He walked fast to get the chill out of his blood, following the path blindly, losing it on the outcroppings of granite, picking it up in the grassy hollows. It brought him finally to the rim of a cliff he had circled around on his way to the shack, but farther to the south. There was evidently a way down the cliff. The path went between two immense boulders. Silver bushes, silver grass, silver rock, blackness beyond and below. Andrus started slowly down, holding on to the bushes, the grass, feeling with his feet. Pebbles slid, his feet went from under him, and he landed on rock-strewn ground 10 feet below.

The fall knocked the wind out of him. Sitting up, he moved his arms and legs experimentally. He had twisted one knee and his shoulder was wrenched but there didn't appear to be any bones broken. How near was he to level ground? He struggled to his feet and tried to pierce the darkness. The cliff above cast an impenetrable shadow, made deeper by light flooding the woods 50 feet beyond and below. The ground was rough and sloped sharply. He had no desire to spend the rest of the night in the open with a sprained ankle.

Andrus felt in his pocket and got out the flap of matches. There were only two left. He struck one. The little flare illuminated only a small space. The edge of a sharp rock—coming from behind its bulk a hand attached to an arm pointed at him out of blackness. The match died.

Andrus lit the other and took an uncertain step. The wavering flame did better by him this time. Yellow light fell on a white, broken face painted with dark streams of blood, a dead face. Life had gone out of it. It was as empty as a paper bag. The match in Andrus' fingers went out. Stones rattled close by. A fraction of a second later a piece of cliff fell on him from behind and he pitched forward and went down like a log.

Andrus tried to turn over and groaned. The sound of the groan brought him to. He opened his eyes on darkness. Someone was driving spikes through his head with a sledge hammer where he was lying stretched out face down on a lumpy mattress. Recollection began to come back . . .

good half the deficit and I'll give you my check for the rest."

The management called the very next day to report success. Mr. Carnegie made out his check and asked, "Mind telling me who coughed up the other half?" "Not at all," he assured. "It was Mrs. Carnegie."

It wasn't a lumpy mattress he was lying on. It was the dead man.

Pushing, shoving, lifting himself by inches, trying to avoid the feel of the thing beneath him, he managed to roll clear on to boulder-strewn ground. Rocks dug into him. His leg was cut. He touched it and his fingers came away wet. There was a lot of broken glass around and the smell of whisky was rank in his nostrils. He rested for a moment.

The blow he had received from a chunk of falling rock added his thinking a bit but he knew with certainty that the dead man a few feet away was Michael Brodsky—Midnight Mike.

He had recognized him instantly in the flare of the match. What had happened was clear enough. On his way up to his cabin with a bottle after having made a night of it, Brodsky had fallen off the cliff and bashed out his brains. Whatever the man might have said, he wasn't going to say anything now. The trail of the silver flask had petered out.

A long while later he staggered out into a road with houses on it behind trees. It wasn't the road he had gone in by. The houses were dark. He had no idea where he was or what time it was, his watch had stopped. A street lamp shone through interlaced branches at the corner. He went round the corner and started to climb in the direction of the moon, invisible below the horizon but still sending out pale milky light. The town was there.

His head pounded viciously and the smell of the spilled whisky on his clothes made his stomach churn. Over and above the pain something about the bottle of whisky Midnight Mike had been carrying troubled him. Something odd . . . something that didn't fit . . . Whatever it was, it eluded his grasp. Never mind it now. He had to get back to his room in the Yonkers hotel and under cover before dawn.

The night was cold and still. His footsteps were loud when he wasn't stumbling and shuffling through

He caught hold of a tree to keep from falling. He knew where he was. His feet had carried him over familiar terrain without his being conscious of where he was going. He was outside Regina Pelham's house, on the road below the house. The shape of the roof and chimneys, the sharp upward roll of granite broken by tall trees outlined against the faintly paler sky, were unmistakable. Someone was up late. Two windows in the tower were lighted.

After a couple of minutes the dizziness receded. At least he had a bearing. Andrus lurched across the road and started to climb in the opposite direction. NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON — None other than Napoleon Bonaparte's army engineer, Gen. Albert Crozet, fortifies Sen. Harry F. Byrd's opposition to the Administration's $101 billion road-building program. The French logistical expert became a highway engineer for the senator's state of Virginia after Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo and his exile to St. Helena.

Byrd, like Crozet 140 years ago, has road-building associations, which help to qualify the senator as an expert on this subject. In 1808, the Valley Turnpike Association was organized and about eight years later, with Crozet as the operating head, it built one of this country's most famous turnpikes.

COSTS—It extends 100 miles from Winchester, the senator's hometown and scene of Sheridan's great ride, to Stanton, the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson. It cost $5,000 a mile, as against today's costs of $1 million a mile. It was financed by tolls at the rate of five cents a mile, which were eventually cut to three cents a mile.

OBJECTION — Byrd's continu-

Nestling in the Blue Ridge Mountains outside of Thomas Jefferson's University of Virginia at Charlottesville, the tiny town of Crozet records the French general's achievements. It is, perhaps, most famous as the birthplace of the late Stephen Early, F.D.R.'s able press secretary.

INTEREST — Byrd became head of the Valley Turnpike Association in 1908. Then, and subsequently as governor of Virginia, he built one of the finest highway systems possessed by any state in the union. He has never lost interest in this problem.

In proposing a nationwide program of 40,000 miles of roads, to be financed by a semi-governmental corporation's issue of bonds, which is designed to rid the budget and the public debt of this financial burden, Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey is facing no Capitol Hill demagogues or amateur in the construction of highways.

He is up against a senator who knows roads and finances, and the combination virtually assures defeat of the Humphrey plan.

ing interest in the Crozet Highway, which Byrd rebuilt as governor and which he travels on his weekend drives to Winchester, underlies his denunciation of the Administration's scheme. But his objections, in his opinion, apply to every section of the country where Humphrey's 200-foot wide superhighways would be built.

The Virginia Valley Turnpike, Byrd points out, has become a magnet for the construction of thriving towns, shops, small industries, motels, restaurants and all the other adjuncts of a well-traveled highway. With the relocation required by the Administration's system of new national roadbeds, all these established properties and assets would lose their present value. The same losses would occur throughout the country.

BILLIONS — Aside from this property loss, Byrd dislikes the indirect method of financing, which he describes as a "trick." It will cost more than $11 billion in extra interest charges, and although the total of more than $30 billion will not be included in the national budget or debt, it will be a charge against the government in the final analysis.

When pressed on the question of financing 40,000 miles of roads in committee, Humphrey made a reply which brings a wry smile to Byrd's lips. Said Humphrey concerning the corporation's highway bond issue:

"It will not be a government debt, but it will be an honest obligation!"

HIGHWAY NEED—Nobody on Capitol Hill, least of all Byrd, doubts the need for more and better roads, and some sort of a simpler substitute for the Humphrey program will be enacted at this session.

In 15 years, or since before World War II, highway travel has doubled. It totals 557 billion miles a year now, and it is expected to be 800 billion in another ten years. There are now about 58 million motor vehicles, and the figure will be 80 in ten years, possibly 100 million twenty years hence.

Accidents and travel delays now cost an estimated $3.5 billion annually. Traffic deaths annually number more than the fatalities in the Korean War, or about 40,000.

Mrs. Bell Conducts Corsage Workshop For Pickaway Club

Club Members Are To Model Handiwork

Mrs. Joe Bell of N. Court St. served as instructor for a corsage workshop held Thursday afternoon in the recreation room of the Harold Anderson home on Collins Court.

A total of twenty members of the Pickaway Garden club attended the event, when Mrs. Bell demonstrated the techniques of wiring and taping as she constructed corsages of carnations, roses, rubrum lily and bronze chrysanthemums.

Following the demonstration by Mrs. Bell, the club members gathered at tables to make corsages according to the techniques taught by Mrs. Bell.

The speaker gave advice on the wearing of corsages as well as their construction. She stated that a corsage may be worn on either the right or left shoulder, whichever is more convenient.

If dancing is in order, the corsage definitely must be worn on the left shoulder. Mrs. Bell urged her listeners to wear the flowers high enough that the tip of a flower may be seen from the back of the wearer.

The speaker urged her listeners to use two pins to fasten the corsage, in order to make it seem comfortable to the wearer. The pin should first pierce the fabric then the corsage and again be pinned through the fabric.

She stated that a bracelet corsage should be worn on the outside of the left wrist.

Mrs. Bell told her audience that designing corsages should be fun. She showed how foliage can be made to simulate the foliage of the flower used when its own foliage will not hold up in a corsage.

The speaker stated that a corsage that has ripened in an airtight container in the refrigerator for several hours will hold up better than a freshly-made corsage.

Members of the club plan to model their corsages at a regular club meeting which is to be held Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart of Northridge Rd.

Ashville School Conducts Musical Assembly Session

A musical program honoring St. Patrick and the Irish was held during a March assembly of the upper grades and high school of the Ashville school.

Everett Mehrey and Alverna Rinehart presented a piano duet, followed by "That's An Irish Lullaby" and "My Wild Irish Rose" by the high school senior chorus.

Pupils of Grades 5 and 6 danced an Irish reel, which preceded group singing of "The Easter Parade." Sonia Leatherwood played the piano accompaniments for the vocal music while Carolyn Stout was accompanist for the Irish reel.

The speaker urged her listeners to use two pins to fasten the corsage, in order to make it seem comfortable to the wearer. The pin should first pierce the fabric then the corsage and again be pinned through the fabric.

She stated that a bracelet corsage should be worn on the outside of the left wrist.

Mrs. Bell told her audience that designing corsages should be fun. She showed how foliage can be made to simulate the foliage of the flower used when its own foliage will not hold up in a corsage.

The speaker stated that a corsage that has ripened in an airtight container in the refrigerator for several hours will hold up better than a freshly-made corsage.

Members of the club plan to model their corsages at a regular club meeting which is to be held Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart of Northridge Rd.

The Cross and Christian Discipleship

THE FOLLOWERS OF CHRIST SHOULD BEAR HIS CROSS DAILY

Scripture—Matthew 21:1-11; Luke 9:23-24; John 12:20-26; II Corinthians 5:14-19; Galatians 2:20-21; 6:14-17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
THE TIME is Sunday of Holy Week, and Jesus and His disciples are on their way to Jerusalem. "And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the Mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples."

He told them to go to the village, where they would find an ass tied, and a colt. They were to loose and bring them to Him. If anyone objected to this, they were to say to him, "The Lord hath need of them," and they would be allowed to take the beasts.

Jesus had spent the evening before at the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, knowing well that He would never be in that quiet, friendly household again except in spirit. Too well He knew that in going to Jerusalem, His enemies there would find a way to end His life on earth.

The disciples did as they were told and they threw their clothes on the ass and seated Jesus on happenings of which are presumed to have taken place on the Tuesday following. In Jerusalem there were some Greeks among the worshippers of the feast, and they asked to see Jesus. They came to Philip with their request. Philip told Andrew and he told Jesus.

Jesus said to them, "The hour is come that the Son of Man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

This too, should interest the children, who may have helped their parents put seed into the earth where in time tiny shoots of green would appear to grow and grow into fine plants producing flowers of all colors, or into vegetables or fruit. If the teacher could bring a pot of earth to the class and possibly plant a seed, or have a small growth from a seed to show them, it would interest the youngsters.

Jesus further said: "If any man her, "that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, and sitting upon an ass and a colt the foal of an ass."

A great multitude of people followed the Lord and His disciples, and some spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees (as they were in the habit of doing at the feast of the tabernacles). All the multitude cried, "Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest."

When they entered the city everyone was excited and asked, "Who is this?" and the multitude said, "This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee."

All the children in the Sunday school will be greatly interested in this part of our lesson, picturing to themselves the scene as it is told. The remainder of the lesson may be a little difficult for them.

Now we turn to John 12:20, the serve Me, let him follow Me; and where I am there shall also My servant be: if any man serve Me, him will My Father honor."

"He (Jesus) died for all," Paul wrote the Corinthians, "that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died for them and rose again."

Jesus died for all, reconciling us to God the Father. As we read of His blameless life on earth, and think of the lessons He taught us, surely, as Paul says, we shall be "new creatures; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

For the older classes the words Paul wrote to the Galatians should be sunk deep in their hearts, and remembered in all crises in their lives.

"I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

Now we turn to John 12:20, the

serve Me, let him follow Me; and where I am there shall also My servant be: if any man serve Me, him will My Father honor."

"He (Jesus) died for all," Paul wrote the Corinthians, "that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died for them and rose again."

Jesus died for all, reconciling us to God the Father. As we read of His blameless life on earth, and think of the lessons He taught us, surely, as Paul says, we shall be "new creatures; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

For the older classes the words Paul wrote to the Galatians should be sunk deep in their hearts, and remembered in all crises in their lives.

"I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

It's agriculture's most useful form of nitrogen!

a 20% nitrogen fertilizer that is granular and free-flowing

You get both nitrogen and lime when you use AERO® CYANAMID, GRANULAR. This means that when you plow down your crop wastes or cover crops with Cyanamid, you build soil humus and prevent soil acidity at the same time! Look at all the ways plow down with Cyanamid pays off:

You get more humus, faster! Cyanamid speeds up the rotting of crop wastes or cover crops... produces maximum amounts of good, rich humus to improve the condition of your soil and feed the following crops. Result: better stands, sturdier plants, higher yields.

You get necessary lime. Each ton of Cyanamid contains 20% nitrogen PLUS a one-ton equivalent of ground limestone to prevent soil acidity and supply more available calcium than any other fertilizer.

You get the right kind of nitrogen. The 20% nitrogen in Cyanamid resists leaching... is available to your crops from plow down until harvest. This "staying" quality of Cyanamid permits plow down at any time of year.

You save on production costs. You can eliminate the trouble and expense of side- or top-dressing by using Cyanamid... another valuable bonus.

You get deeper rooting, too. Plow down with Cyanamid puts nitrogen down in the root zone where it can be used by the plants. This encourages deeper rooting, helps your crops withstand drought.

And you avoid lower yields which so often follow plow down of crop wastes and mature cover crops alone.

Exhibition Tilts Showing Air Of Pennant Chase

Pilots Using Strategy, Pinch Hitters, Relief Hurlers In Warmups

The Associated Press

Exhibition baseball almost had the air of championship competition about it yesterday, what with managers giving strategy a good workout and pinch hitters and relief pitchers getting the spotlight.

Four of the games were decided by one run, including a 3-2 decision by the Milwaukee Braves over the Brooklyn Dodgers as rookie Al Facchini broke up a 2-2 tie between the two National League contenders with a pinch single in the eighth.

With less than two weeks remaining before opening day, there was only one game that had more wallop than finesse. That was a 14-11 comedy won from the world champion New York Giants by the Cleveland Indians. Among other things, there were 18 ground-rule doubles caused by an overflow San Antonio crowd of 11,649, and a short skirmish in which Umpire Lon Warneke, onetime Gas House Gang pitcher, pushed a local peace officer off the field.

Brooklyn and Milwaukee were neck and neck until Facchini, up from Corpus Christi of the Big State League, dropped his shot into left with the bases jammed. The hit came off Tom LaSorda who came on after Ron Negray had walked three with one out. LaSorda, a lefty, fanned pinch hitter Andy Pafko before running into Facchini.

Brooklyn played first baseman Gil Hodges in right, second baseman Junior Gilliam in left and shortstop, PeeWee Reese at second. "Nothing significant," said Manager Walt Alston. "I just wanted to see what the boys can do."

Mickey Vernon lined a two-out pinch single in the eighth to score the winning run in Washington's 4-3 triumph over Cincinnati.

Lino Donoso, a left-handed reliever, got the job done for Pittsburgh in a 6-5 success against Baltimore by fanning Hal Smith with the bases full in the ninth.

Bob Tiefenauer pulled a similar pitching trick for the St. Louis Cardinals, working out of a jam with his knuckler after the Chicago White Sox had loaded the bases with none out in the eighth. Rip Repulski's 10th-inning single gave it to the Cards 3-2.

The Red Sox ganged up on Rookie Jack Meyer for all the runs during the first six innings against the Philadelphia Phillies before veteran Murry Dickson set down nine Boston batters in the final three frames. Boston won 6-4.

The Giants and Indians each had 9 of the 18 automatic two-base hits in their 25-hit slugfest that also had five errors. Cleveland clubbed Sal Maglie for eight runs and 10 hits in 3 1-3 innings. Ralph Kiner hit a two-run homer for the Tribe. Willie Mays and Al Dark did the same for New York.

The crowd caused Umpire Ed Runge to rule interference in calling a Giants fly out in the eighth. That led to an argument between Runge and manager Leo Durocher of the Giants. And when the cop tried to butt in, Warneke pushed him out.

Canada Girl Cancels Swim Plans

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Janice White, of Toronto, has canceled plans to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca between here and Port Angeles, Wash.

Unrelenting winds and the menace of a new storm crowding in from the Pacific led her last night to abandon the try at crossing the cold channel which defeated Florence Chadwick last August.

She has been trying for three days to start the 18-mile plud splash from Canada to the U. S.

Ohio Horse Racing Season Opening

AKRON (AP)—Horse racing starts today at nearby Ascot Park, the earliest opening day in Ohio racing history.

Ascot, with a new owner, new tote board, new officials and new horses, starts a 44-day meet with eight races featuring the inaugural handicap with $1,500 for 3-year-olds and older over 6 1/2 furlongs.

The track's new proprietor is Horace Adams of Cleveland, who controls a string of movie theaters and is making his first venture into racing. He paid $1,300,000 for Ascot last year.

Tribe Coach Unworried By Mound Staff

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cleveland Indians pitchers have been giving up runs in clusters, big clusters. But Coach Mel Harder is not alarmed. He expects his staff to look bad at first.

Why? Because he does not allow them to throw curves or "freak" pitches until their arms get stronger. "Our pitchers," he explains, are "basically fast ball pitchers."

Because exhibition game batters are not "ready for freak pitches or breaking stuff yet," he believes his club could win with them.

But he quickly adds that both he and Manager Al Lopez think "it's much more important for the pitchers to get their arms in shape for the regular season. If spring training games counted, our approach would be different."

"You can be sure," he said yesterday, "that when the season starts our fellows will be strong and ready for the full season. The fact that we rarely come up with a sore arm must mean that our conditioning program is successful. If you want further proof, look at the records."

Pitchers, he continued, "go through a period of worry each spring, when their arms get so weak they think they've lost their fast ball. Suddenly they wake up one morning and their arms feel strong. They go out to the field and throw and their fast ball has the old zing again. It happens every spring."

At San Antonio yesterday, the Tribe trimmed the New York Giants, 14-11.

DeMarco Set For Meeting With Saxton

BOSTON (AP)—Tony DeMarco's chances of winning the welterweight boxing title from champion Johnny Saxton tonight depend largely on whether the local slugger can prove he's not a bleeder.

The healed knot of cartilage over DeMarco's left eye and the chin a sparmate cut last December could be decisive in the 15-round battle for the 147-pound crown.

The Boston Garden fight will not be televised or broadcast.

Yanks To Win '55 Pennant Despite Tribe, It Says Here

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Despite Cleveland's record-breaking 111 victories in 1954 and the addition of Ralph Kiner, the sobered New York Yankees will bounce back to win the American League pennant in this writers' opinion.

The Yankee "complacency" of a year ago, given as the reason for Vic Raschi's sale, is conspicuous by its absence. The shock of missing poush World Series checks, plus the Indians' four-day "swoon" against the New York Giants gave the Yanks food for thought during the long winter months.

Not that "complacency" caused the Yanks' defeat. Cleveland's solid pitching staff with Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia and the fine hitting of Larry Doby and Bobby Avila exploded the Yanks' dreams of a sixth straight pennant.

During the off season, the Yanks acquired Bob Turley, the league strikeout king, from Baltimore in that nine-for-nine deal. Although Turley has been wild in the exhibitions, it still is possible that this swap will win the 1955 championship for the Yanks.

It should be a close race with New York and Cleveland running one-two or two-one all the way. The Tribe has solid power in Al Rosen, Vic Wertz, Doby and Kiner. It has added Herb Score, the sensational young lefty from Indianapolis, to its strong pitching staff. Still the club is just ordinarily defensively and slow.

Although Marty Marion, one of six new managers in the league, talks of his White Sox winning, they look like a third-place club which will need terrific seasons by Virgil Trucks and Billy Pierce and some lousy slugging by Walt Dropo and Minnie Minoso to challenge.

Detroit and Boston, both rebuilding with youngsters, should fight it out for fourth, followed by Washington, Baltimore and Kansas City.

Here's the way it looks from before opening day:

1. New York
2. Cleveland
3. Chicago
4. Detroit
5. Boston
6. Washington
7. Baltimore
8. Kansas City

Haas, Maxwell Leading Azalea

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio scored 35-34-69, and Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, tallied 35-35-70, in yesterday's opening round of the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Fred Haas Jr., Claremont, Calif., and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., tied for the lead at 65 each after the first 18 holes.

Carl Smith Signs With Tennessee

WASHINGTON, C. H. (AP)—One of the highest scoring players in Ohio high school football history has enrolled at the University of Tennessee.

He is Carl Smith, All-Ohio half-back who led Washington C. H. to an undefeated-untied season in 1952 as a senior. That season, Smith scored 293 points in nine games and was sought by a host of colleges.

But he entered the Army, and played service football at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Fort Carson, Colo.

Smith's sister here says the Tennessee school gave him a scholarship, but she added she didn't know what it amounted to.

Junction City Team Seeks Competition

Class A softball teams take note. The Junction City "Outlaws" would like to schedule teams from this area. The games would be played at the Ohio State Brick Plant in that city.

Any teams interested should contact: T. H. Grayble, deputy warden; Junction City Branch; Box 3, Junction City, Ohio.

Jigsaw Puzzle Facing Redleg Manager Now

WARE SHOALS, S. C. (AP)—It begins to look as if Manager Birdie Tebbetts will have to be a good man with a jigsaw puzzle if he is to work out the Cincinnati Redlegs' pitching problems.

With his "A" squad wending its way north and his "B" team still in Tampa, Tebbetts is faced with the problem of having pitchers on both teams that might be men he'll want to keep. Yesterday, "A" team hurlers Johnny Klippstein, Tom Acker and Bud Podbielan were plastered with a 4-3 defeat by the Washington Senators at Camp Gordon, Ga. But "B" team pitchers Jerry Lane and Maurice Fisher held Buffalo of the International League to four hits, won 12-2.

General Manager Gabe Paul admitted the split squad system of a problem but he added, "it's the only way we can find out what we have."

Actually the hitters had to assume a big share of the blame for the "A" team's defeat by Washington yesterday. The Reds clubbed Johnny Schmitz and Dick Hyde for 12 hits but they left 13 men on base. They were retired in order in only one inning.

They had a chance to win it in the ninth, too: Wally Post, who had hit a home run in the eighth, came up with Ted Kluszewski and Bob Borkowski on base but he grounded into a double play.

The run that proved to be the clincher for Washington came in on a pinch hit single off Acker by Mickey Vernon, the American League's 1953 batting champion.

Ohio Entries Gain Notice In ABC

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The Woodward Sheriff team from Akron, Ohio, yesterday rolled 2,887 to take sixth place in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

In all-events competition, Webby Anderson of Canton, Ohio, took 10th position with 1,830.

Yanks To Win '55 Pennant Despite Tribe, It Says Here

By JACK HAND
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Despite Cleveland's record-breaking 111 victories in 1954 and the addition of Ralph Kiner, the sobered New York Yankees will bounce back to win the American League pennant in this writers' opinion.

The Yankee "complacency" of a year ago, given as the reason for Vic Raschi's sale, is conspicuous by its absence. The shock of missing poush World Series checks, plus the Indians' four-day "swoon" against the New York Giants gave the Yanks food for thought during the long winter months.

Not that "complacency" caused the Yanks' defeat. Cleveland's solid pitching staff with Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia and the fine hitting of Larry Doby and Bobby Avila exploded the Yanks' dreams of a sixth straight pennant.

During the off season, the Yanks acquired Bob Turley, the league strikeout king, from Baltimore in that nine-for-nine deal. Although Turley has been wild in the exhibitions, it still is possible that this swap will win the 1955 championship for the Yanks.

It should be a close race with New York and Cleveland running one-two or two-one all the way. The Tribe has solid power in Al Rosen, Vic Wertz, Doby and Kiner. It has added Herb Score, the sensational young lefty from Indianapolis, to its strong pitching staff. Still the

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio scored 35-34-69, and Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, tallied 35-35-70, in yesterday's opening round of the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Fred Haas Jr., Claremont, Calif., and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., tied for the lead at 65 each after the first 18 holes.

Carl Smith Signs With Tennessee

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—One of the highest scoring players in Ohio high school football history has enrolled at the University of Tennessee.

He is Carl Smith, All-Ohio half-back who led Washington C. H. to an undefeated-untied season in 1952 as a senior. That season, Smith scored 293 points in nine games and was sought by a host of colleges.

But he entered the Army, and played service football at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Fort Carson, Colo.

Smith's sister here says the Tennessee school gave him a scholarship, but she added she didn't know what it amounted to.

Junction City Team Seeks Competition

Class A softball teams take note. The Junction City "Outlaws" would like to schedule teams from this area. The games would be played at the Ohio State Brick Plant in that city.

Any teams interested should contact: T. H. Graybe, deputy warden; Junction City Branch; Box 3, Junction City, Ohio.

Jigsaw Puzzle Facing Redleg Manager Now

WARE SHOALS, S. C. (AP)—It begins to look as if Manager Birdie Tebbetts will have to be a good man with a jigsaw puzzle if he is to work out the Cincinnati Redlegs' pitching problems.

With his "A" squad wending its way north and his "B" team still in Tampa, Tebbetts is faced with the problem of having pitchers on both teams that might be men he'll want to keep. Yesterday, "A" team hurlers Johnny Klippstein, Tom Acker and Bud Podbielan were plastered with a 4-3 defeat by the Washington Senators at Camp Gordon, Ga. But "B" team pitchers Jerry Lane and Maurice Fisher held Buffalo of the International League to four hits, won 12-2.

General Manager Gabe Paul admitted the split squad system offers a problem but he added, "it's the only way we can find out what we have."

Actually the hitters had to assume a big share of the blame for the "A" team's defeat by Washington yesterday. The Reds clubbed Johnny Schmitz and Dick

Canada Girl Cancels Swim Plans

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Janice White, of Toronto, has canceled plans to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca between here and Port Angeles, Wash.

Unrelenting winds and the menace of a new storm crowding in from the Pacific led her last night to abandon the try at crossing the cold channel which defeated Florence Chadwick last August.

She has been trying for three days to start the 18-mile - plud splash from Canada to the U. S.

ED. HELWAGEN

400 N. COURT ST. CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

When you compare automobile values, one plain and easily proved truth becomes evident — Pontiac gives you more for your money than any other car in America!

Keeping in mind that Pontiac is priced within the reach of any new-car buyer, consider these three very important facts:

Pontiac is a big car! Pontiac's 122" or 124" wheelbase is 6 1/2 to 8 1/2 inches longer than any of the "low-priced three". It's the biggest car at its price.

Pontiac is more powerful! Model for model, its big Strato-Streak V-8 delivers more power per dollar than any car in its field!

Pontiac is the most distinctively beautiful car at any price! No other car can match the individuality of Pontiac Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Tone colors.

Right there are three big reasons why Pontiac sales are at an all-time high. Come in and get all the facts—for final proof.

You can buy a big, 200-H.P. Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

HOTELS USE FOAM TO CLEAN CARPETS. Good hotels, whose carpets get far more wear than yours, know foam cleaner is the answer. Hotel managers say foam cleaner such as Fina Foam does the job quicker and better than any other kind. Fina Foam is easier to use, leaves nap fluffy and brings the colors back like new. With the new Fina Foam, you clean your wall-to-wall carpeting standing up, easily with a long handle brush, and it's ready for use in a few hours. It's economical, too. A gallon of concentrate for $2.25 makes three gallons of solution, enough for three 9x12 rugs. Get Fina Foam at WARPSTER & YOST.

Vejar Favored To Top Graham

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Young, ambitious Chico Vejar has another 10-round date tonight with Billy Graham, the ring veteran who once almost had within his grasp the world welterweight championship. Chico years for.

The bout will be telecast and broadcast by NBC at 10 p.m. EST. Graham had retirement in mind before he met Vejar March 4 in Madison Square Garden.

Chico won that one, in a split decision, but Graham decided he wanted more. He says he's in top shape for this one, but Vejar's youth and speed make him an 8-5 favorite.

Congressmen Set For Baseball Prep

WASHINGTON — Congress members are ready to take up where major leaguers left off in Florida spring baseball training. Sixty-two members who hope to play in the annual game between Democrats and Republicans move into Daytona Beach, Fla., this weekend for six days of practice during the Easter recess of Congress. The game will be played in Washington June 7.

The game is a five-inning affair, played in Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators of the American League. The Republicans never have won.

He was an anarcho-syndicalist, which was a wild sort of philosophical person who hoped to free men from tyranny by, of course, establishing another kind of tyranny. He was poetic and handsome and violently entertaining. The girls adored him and sacrificed themselves before his altar.

Tresca is one of many anti-Communist people who have been shot down on our streets or murdered in hotel rooms. It happens more often than you think and the police do not solve these murders. The Tresca murder, occurring in the heart of New York, has never been solved. Nobody has been arrested for it. No District Attorney prosecuted anyone on account of it. He was killed by order of the Third International, just as General Walter Krivitsky was killed by its orders in a hotel room in Washington. If you want to read how these things are done, it is all in Ralph de Toledano's "Day of Reckoning." If you are interested, buy the book at your book shop and if the clerk, for some reason, refuses to sell it to you or recommends, as a substitute, a book with an 80 percent naked dame on the cover, see the manager and tell him what for.

Vejar Favored To Top Graham

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Young, ambitious Chico Vejar has another 10-round date tonight with Billy Graham, the ring veteran who once almost had within his grasp the world welterweight championship.

The bout will be telecast and broadcast by NBC at 10 p.m. EST. Graham had retirement in mind before he met Vejar March 4 in Madison Square Garden.

Chico won that one, in a split decision, but Graham decided he wanted more. He says he's in top shape for this one, but Vejar's youth and speed make him an 8-5 favorite.

Congressmen Set For Baseball Prep

WASHINGTON — Congress members are ready to take up where major leaguers left off in Florida spring baseball training.

Sixty-two members who hope to play in the annual game between Democrats and Republicans move into Daytona Beach, Fla., this weekend for six days of practice during the Easter recess of Congress. The game will be played in Washington June 7.

The game is a five-inning affair, played in Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators of the American League. The Republicans never have won.

He was an anarcho-syndicalist, which was a wild sort of philosopher person who hoped to free men from tyranny by, of course, establishing another kind of tyranny. He was poetic and handsome and violently entertaining. The girls adored him and sacrificed themselves before his altar.

Tresca is one of many anti-Communist people who have been shut down on their streets or murdered in hotel rooms. It happens more often than you think and the police do not solve these murders. The Tresca murder, occurring in the heart of New York, has never been solved. Nobody has been arrested for it. No District Attorney prosecuted anyone on account of it. He was killed by order of the Third International, just as General Walter Krivitsky was killed by its orders in a hotel room in Washington.

If you want to read how these things are done, it is all in Ralph de Toledano's "Day of Reckoning." If you are interested, buy the book at your book shop and if the clerk, for some reason, refuses to sell it to you or recommends, as a substitute, a book with an 80 percent naked dame on the cover, see the manager and tell him what for.

'Gladiators' List 1955 Schedule

Opening Event To Take Place On April 23rd

Drum, Bugle Corps Ready To Perform Under New Name

Cincinnati's famed American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will soon enter competition under their new nickname, 'The Gladiators'.

The corps will appear at a number of events prior to actual competition. For example, on April 23, the corps will play at the National Commander's Banquet in Chillicothe.

On April 24, the drum section of The Gladiators will perform at the State All-American Drum and Bugle Corps Assn. Clinic.

May 1 looms as a busy day for the corps. They have two invitations for that day; one, which they have already accepted, is for a Cincinnati Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Harness Race at the Fairgrounds.

HOWEVER, they have been asked also to hold that day open for the annual celebration of Hospital Day at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

The Gladiators' first Midwest Circuit competition occurs on June 26. They travel to Hamilton where the N. College Hill Grenadiers are sponsors.

On July 3, the corps travels to Mansfield for the Annual Invitational competition.

July 30-31 is the American Legion Convention competition in Columbus, at which the corps expects to make a top showing.

On Aug. 7, the Gladiators have been invited to the Invitational competition at the Champaign County Fair in Urbana. Only four corps have been asked to this event.

Aug. 14, if approved, will be one of the highlights of the corps' activity. This date has been tentatively set for the well-accepted "Colorama Of Music".

This year, the second one it will be presented, the program will begin at 6 p. m. instead of in the heat of the afternoon.

Aug. 28 is the date when The Gladiators will appear at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus. A week later, the corps will travel to Bellefontaine for a Midwest Circuit meet.

On Sept. 11, the corps may close

League Death Worst Crime, Cox Believes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—James M. Cox, onetime Democratic candidate for President, told on his 85th birthday yesterday of what he considers history's worst crime against civilization.

Cox, newspaper publisher and former governor of Ohio, described this "worst crime" as the destruction of the League of Nations for partisan political purposes.

He tied that historic event in with others of more recent origin, including publication of the Yalta papers, which he also believes to have been a mistake. He said the motive here too was partisan politics.

Why was the defeat of the League of Nations a crime against humanity? "Because it affected the whole world," he said. And the same was true of the Yalta papers, he said, adding:

"No fair-minded student of events will deny that the whole mess we are in now stems entirely its season as they go to Marion for another Midwest meet.

Membership in the Midwest Circuit has changed from last year.

NEW CORPS added include: Detroit, Mich. Edison Post (1953-54 Michigan state champions) and the Benson Hough VFW Post.

from the destruction of the League of Nations.

"Over 40 nations had signed the covenant. Nations worldwide had not fallen apart spiritually or materially."

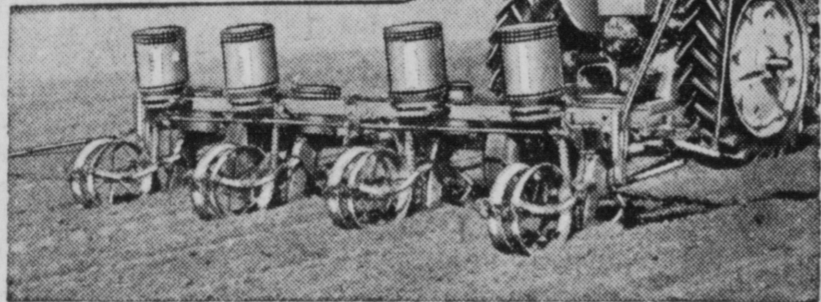

"The sad but truthful fact is that it was all a political conspiracy. There is no need of reviving now the details of that affair. President Harding abandoned our allies and made a separate peace with Germany."

D. A. Yates Says: SERVICE IS IMPORTANT

The forerunner of the present day Service Station was the Blacksmith Shop. Here the Horse got the shoes, the Buggy received new rubber tires, wagons were repaired and the first cars were checked. The amount of equipment investment was probably less than $300.

Many of the residents here will remember the following shops. Whittinton, Aman, Schwartz, Miller, Jones, Moss, Valentine, Eaton and Goode. Mr. Goode was the last to operate here.

Most everyone owns a car today but 45 years ago many people did not own a horse and buggy. If you wanted to take a drive you rented a horse and buggy from one of the following Livery Stables: W. H. Albaugh, John Henry, E. W. Lutz, Emanuel Stout, Wolf and Jim Taylor.

While we drive 500 miles in a day now, distance then was something to consider. In the winter when the roads were bad, I used to take a school teacher up by the Red Bridge on Monday and pick her up on Fridays. Many of these trips were made in a sleigh and eight miles was too much to make every day and I might add, too expensive at fifty cents a trip.

Today the average Garage Service Station investment in the U. S. is over $108,000. Special equipment includes Paint Guns and Body Tools, Front End Aligner, Wheel Balancer, Lubricating and Undercoating Guns, Motor Analyzers for both 6 and 12 volt engines, Distributor Tester, Battery Charger and Testers, Pinion Presses, and many other items of special tools too numerous to mention.

These tools are very important but it is also important that you have men who know how to use them. We have Six Mechanics in our shop we think are tops. Together they have had 55 years experience. They have had special training through G. M. Training School and Factory Service Bulletins and we back anything they do. We appreciate your business, we welcome the opportunity of serving you and we also welcome any suggestions which will help us improve our service to you.

'Gladiators' List 1955 Schedule

Opening Event To Take Place On April 23rd

Drum, Bugle Corps Ready To Perform Under New Name

Circleville's famed American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will soon enter competition under their new nickname, "The Gladiators". The corps will appear at a number of events prior to actual competition. For example, on April 23, the corps will play at the National Commander's Banquet in Chillicothe.

On April 24, the drum section of The Gladiators will perform at the State All-American Drum and Bugle Corps Assn. Clinic.

May 1 looms as a busy day for the corps. They have two invitations for that day; one, which they have already accepted, is for a Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Harness Race at the Fairgrounds.

HOWEVER, they have been asked also to hold that day open for the annual celebration of Hospital Day at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

The Gladiators' first Midwest Circuit competition occurs on June 26. They travel to Hamilton where the N. College Hill Grenadiers are sponsors.

On July 3, the corps travels to Mansfield for the Annual Invitational competition.

July 30-31 is the American Legion Convention competition in Columbus, at which the corps expects to make a top showing.

On Aug. 7, the Gladiators have been invited to the Invitational competition at the Champaign County Fair in Urbana. Only four corps have been asked to this event.

Aug 14, if approved, will be one of the highlights of the corps' activity. This date has been tentatively set for the well-accepted "Colorama Of Music".

This year, the second one it will be presented, the program will begin at 6 p. m. instead of in the heat of the afternoon.

Aug. 28 is the date when The Gladiators will appear at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus. A week later, the corps will travel to Bellefontaine for a Midwest Circuit meet.

On Sept. 11, the corps may close

League Death Worst Crime, Cox Believes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—James M. Cox, onetime Democratic candidate for President, told on his 85th birthday yesterday of what he considers history's worst crime against civilization.

Cox, newspaper publisher and former governor of Ohio, described this "worst crime" as the destruction of the League of Nations for partisan political purposes.

He tied that historic event in with others of more recent origin, including publication of the Yalta papers, which he also believes to have been a mistake. He said the motive here too was partisan politics.

Why was the defeat of the League of Nations a crime against humanity? "Because it affected the whole world," he said. And the same was true of the Yalta papers, he said, adding:

"No fair-minded student of events will deny that the whole mess we are in now stems entirely its season as they go to Marion for another Midwest meet.

Membership in the Midwest Circuit has changed from last year.
